MARYVILLE WILL VOTE ON CONTRACT

WITH MARYVILLE ELECTRIC LIGHT AND POWER CO.

TWO-THIRDS VOTE NEEDED

Provides For Special Tax To Pay For Lighting Streets, Alleys and Other Public Places

Maryville will vote on the ratification of a contract with the Maryville Electric Light and Power Co., for the lighting of its streets, tomorrow.

A two-thirds vote is necessary for the proposition to carry. Women, of course, are eligible to vote. The polls will be opened at 6 o'clock in the morning and will close at 7 o'clock tomorrow night.

As yet, there has been very little sentiment aroused over tomorrow's election, but if the contract is not adopted, Maryville will be without street lights. Very little opposition has been shown to the proposition but a large vote is necessary in order to make the two-thirds required by law.

By the provisions of the contract with the Maryville Electric Light and Power Co., a special tax, aggregating not more than $5646.50 a year from all the taxable property of the city, shall be levied for the purpose of lighting the streets, avenues, alleys and other public places of the city. This special tax is the same as is now being paid and the voters are asked to say whether or not they desire to continue paying this tax.

The polling places are as follows:

First ward—At the room formerly occupied by the Radio Supply Co., in the Robinson Building, 411 North Main street.

Second ward—At the shop of Lloyd Geist, Lippman Building, 412 North Main street.

Third ward—At the city hall in the basement of the Carnegie Public Library, Second and Buchanan streets.

Fourth ward—At the building, known as the Kane Building, located at the southeast corner of the intersection of Third and Market streets.

PRES. COOLIDGE IS PRACTICAL IDEALIST

SAYS THE REVEREND COOPER IN HIS SERMON

DIFFICULT SITUATION

To Maintain At Present Time—Reads First Formal Utterance Of Chief Executive

"President Coolidge is a practical idealist" said the Rev. Joseph A. Cooper in his sermon last night at the Baptist Church when he was calling attention to the key to the character of our President. The Reverend Cooper had for his theme last evening "President Coolidge and Practical Idealism."

"It is that balance between the visionary and the selfish type of man who walks with his head in the clouds and with his feet on earth. It is a difficult situation for a man in the White House, and I want to congratulate the American people in having such a man as President Coolidge, a practical idealist, in the executive chair at such a time as this," said the speaker last night.

The Reverend Cooper said that after the death of the late President Harding our first thought was to the man who would occupy the President's chair. We read all about him that we could find. He referred to former Vice-President Marshall as a genial man in comparison to the man Coolidge who is more of a type of Woodrow Wilson and then more, coldly intellectual.

The American people take much interest in choosing the President but when it comes to the vice-president's office we give little thought, and it is the policy of the party leaders to choose a man for more purely political reasons. The states that will be doubtful in election are sized up and a man from this section picked out in order to swing the constituency, was the thought that the Reverend Cooper conveyed. He said that the public did not know much about this man from Massachusetts, Calvin Coolidge, when he was candidate for vice-president. About all was known was that he was indifferent, cold and keen-minded. After he came into the highest office of the land we wondered what kind of a man he was but could not find out much about him.

The Reverend Cooper read the first formal speech that President Coolidge delivered since he became president, that which he delivered before the Red Cross convention in Washington on September 24. This was his first keynote speech.

In his sermon Reverend Cooper mentioned some of the problems that the President had to deal with, such as the prohibition problem which is demanding much attention at this time and said that with these on one hand and Senator Pinchot on the other, it takes a lot of grace to remain a practical idealist.

In the future, when candidates are chosen for the presidency, the speaker said he hoped that the American people would choose a man who would stand up for the great moral problems that face us. He said that religion is going to be tested in the next presidential campaign. We are facing in this country a division, such as the "Bloc System."

The Reverend Cooper said he was glad to read such a speech as President Coolidge made as his first formal utterance as it brought out one scope which had so religious a theme as his: "Real issues of life are not material but are spiritual." Paul was an idealist when he was getting the people ready for the coming of the King, Jesus Christ, and Reverend Cooper said that Jesus Christ was the greatest practical idealist.

Many Persons Turned Away From Tabernacle

All Seats and Standing Room Taken By 7:15 O'Clack Last Night—Over 100 In Chorus

About 250 persons were turned away from the tabernacle last night as all the seats and standing room was taken fifteen minutes before the beginning of the service.

More than 100 persons were in the chorus. Arthur James Hamilton sang Tennyson's "Crossing the Bar" and "The Wayside Cross." A hidden male quartette sang the chorus of the latter selection and a huge silver cross was lighted up in the front of the tabernacle.

The Rev. O. E. Hamilton spoke on "No Room." This sermon dealt with the proper settlement of international national, community and individual problems.

The crowd began coming to the tabernacle about 6 o'clock, and by 7 o'clock all the seats were filled.

LOCAL HOSPITAL IS ON APPROVED LIST

CLINICAL CONGRESS MAKES OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENT TODAY

THIRTY-SEVEN IN MO.

But Only Seven Hospitals Outside Of Large Cities Are Officially Approved By Medical Institute

St. Francis Hospital of Maryville was named as one of the approved hospitals of the United States and Canada at the fifth annual convention of the Clinical Congress of the American College of surgeons, in session at the Congress Hotel in Chicago today.

In making this official announcement, Dr. Franklin H. Martin, Director General, highly complimented the hospitals of both countries which had taken the steps laid down by the College as necessary to merit such well-marked recognition.

"By your action," he said, "you have pledged yourselves to see that the best care possible is given to the patients in your hospital."

The report is based on a detailed survey made by experts through a personal investigation of all general hospitals of fifty beds and over in the United States and Canada. This investigation is made for the purpose of appraising the service rendered the patient, based on the definite requirements set forth in the Minimum Standard. 1786 hospitals with a bed capacity of 237,946 were included in the survey this year. Of the group 1176 or 65.9 percent for both countries met the standard. Thirty-seven hospitals in Missouri were placed on the approved list.

General hospitals of fifty beds and over on the approved list have met the Minimum Standard, which includes the following requirements: proper professional organization; satisfactory medical case records; adequate laboratory and X-ray facilities; and the enforcement of a ruling which prevents certain surgeons who carry on the pernicious and inhuman practice of fee-splitting, from operating within the hospital.

M. T. MacEachern, M. D., in charge of hospital activities for the College, in addressing the hospital meeting today said, "This is the greatest hospital movement the world has ever seen or perhaps ever will see. It strikes right at the root of things that have a vital bearing on human life. It is a movement destined to lessen the number of days stay of patients in the hospital through better service—to reduce complications and infections to a minimum through better supervision—to lessen incompetent and unnecessary surgery through better diagnostic facilities, more consultations, and closer check-up—and, finally, greatest of all, to lessen the hospital death rate. These things are noticeable in standardized hospitals.

Outside of the big cities of Missouri the following hospitals are on the approved list:

Boone County Hospital, Columbia; Independence Sanitarium, Independence; Parker Memorial Hospital, Columbia; St. Francis Hospital, Cape Girardeau; St. Francis Hospital, Maryville; St. John's Hospital, Joplin, and St. Mary's Hospital, Jefferson City.

J. E. Anderson and wife and daughter of Hopkins were shopping in Maryville Saturday.

O. F. WILSON.

Mr. Wilson was a native of Iowa and was born in Bremer county in 1860. He was the son of J. E. and Elizabeth (McElroy) Wilson, both of whom were natives of Ohio. CHINCH BUG FILM FOR FARM BUREAU

PART OF NEXT PROJECT

To Be Carried Out By the Organization to Save Next Year's Crops

The next project that is being planned and will be carried out by the Farm Bureau of this county is an educational movement to save the next year's crop from the chinch bugs. R. A. Kinnaird, county farm bureau agent has secured a one reel motion picture film entitled "How to Save the Crops From Chinch Bugs." He will take this film to every farm bureau district in the county and show it, making comments and explaining the film as it is being shown.

This film will be shown tonight at the Myrtle Tree School which is northeast of Maryville. At 7:30 o'clock tomorrow night he will show the reel at the Knabb School, north west of Maryville. As yet complete arrangements for the showing of this film have not been made but it is the plan of Mr. Kinnaird to present this picture every night from now until the first of December in order that every farm bureau community will be able to see the picture.

Mr. Kinnaird said this morning that he would like to have farm bureau members in other communities make arrangements for dates for the film to be shown in their districts.

The picture on the chinch bug has been rented at a high figure and it is the object of the farm bureau to take all the opportunities possible for the farm bureau members to see the film.

The picture was made by the Homestead Corporation of Chicago, Ill., which specializes in educational and agricultural pictures. The picture was made especially for the American Farm Bureau Federation under the direction of the state entomologist at the University of Illinois.

Mr. Kinnaird is also trying to get hold of a one reel motion picture film of the Baby Beef Show which was taken at the St. Joseph Live Stock Exchange last year.

FIRE DESTROYS HOME OF MR. AND MRS. P. H. FINN

House Caught Fire From Sparks From Chimney—Furniture From Only Two Rooms Saved

The six-room house of Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Finn, three and a half miles southwest of Maryville, was destroyed by fire about 10:30 o'clock this morning.

The fire caught from the sparks from a flue. The Finns had just put up a stove in the dining room of the house and a fire was made in it this morning. All the furniture was taken out of two rooms downstairs but all the furniture in the other rooms was destroyed by the flames. A crowd of neighbors came to the house a few minutes after it caught fire but the flames had gained such headway that the bucket brigade formed was unable to save the house and contents. Both the house and furniture were insured but it is now known whether the entire loss will be covered.

Mr. and Mrs. Finn, both of them over 70 years old, were alone in the house at the time it caught fire. Their son, Henry Finn, lives but a short distance from their house, and they moved the furniture from the two rooms to his house and are temporarily living there.

Mrs. Jack Pennington is spending the day in St. Joseph.

LARGEST CIRCULATION IN NODAWAY COUNTY

CHARITY MISPLACED.

Charity comes from noble impulses. Faith, Hope and Charity are the three enduring and becoming graces. But charity is sometimes chilled by the abuses of it.

When recipients come to rely upon the generosity of their fellow men to the extent that they lose all ambition or desire to help themselves, then charity becomes a curse rather than a benefit. When people lose all ambition to do for themselves, they have lost about all that is worthwhile in life.

Ford's Independent relates the following incident: For ten years a Russian immigrant toiled in this country to unite his family. The task was a prodigious one and especially as he believed that, in addition to saving and accumulating a sum to bring them over, he must send them money to furnish food and clothing there before he could bring them here. Not long ago he succeeded in getting together a sum sufficient to bring them to this land of promise and plenty. Imagine his disappointment when a daughter and her husband refused to come because they believed the money from this country would continue to flow in and that, if they came over here, the dear son-in-law would have to go to work. He said "let Peter Reisel send food and money and we are well enough off in Russia."

What the old man should send him is a good sized stick of dynamite.

INJURIOUS PROPAGANDA.

The exaggerated exploitation of the farmers' difficulties by such calamity howlers as Senator Brookhart of Iowa and others of his type probably does the farmer more damage than any other one thing. The farmer, like other business men, needs credit when in distress and when that is destroyed one of his greatest assets is gone. Inability to borrow money when needed in emergencies might wreck the biggest and most prosperous business in the country.

Every business at times needs money for enlargement, improvement or to tide over tight places in a large credit business. Men have been known to fail for lack of money to install proper machinery and reduce overhead. When it becomes generally understood that a business is failing money shrinks from it.

Those friends of the farmer who are forever painting him as a wrecked and ruined man may mean well enough but unless checked may make his ruination real and complete. He must borrow from his local banker and his local banker must look to the big city banker when he wants temporary help. Suppose the big city banker says, "you are loaning to farmers and I understand they are all insolvent. We would be glad to accommodate you but you must change your business to a sounder line of debtors before we can do anything more for you." It is easy to see that the local banker would tighten up very quickly.

And, again, any merchant who would go up and down the street or allow his friends to go up and down the street advertising that he is losing money every year, wouldn't last a year after the word got around. Nothing succeeds like success.

One of the wealthiest farmers in Howard county had this experience. His land was heavily mortgaged and he had suffered two or three short crops in succession. His farm was a good one but he became discouraged and went to his banker in Boonville and said, "I am through. I simply can't pay the mortgage and you will have to take the land for the debt." The banker reflected a while and the difficulties of operating or disposing of the farm arose before him. He finally said: "You can run this farm better than we can. Try it awhile longer and see if you don't have better luck. We won't take it just now." The very next year there was an enormous apple crop and a good one the year following. The farmer sold his crops during these two years at a profit of $32,000, paid off his note at the bank and is now one of the wealthiest men in Howard county. Suppose the banker had taken the farm. He would have sacrificed it to some one to get his money out of it and nine chances to one the farmer never would have gotten back on his feet.

There may be crop failures, bad markets and discouragements aimost without limit but the resources in a good tract of land are so many and so varied that there is rarely any need of its owner going broke if he hustles and keeps at it. If one thing does not pay another will. During the months of April, May, June, July and August of this year, five months, Kunhe Brothers of Lincoln County sold from a herd of thirty cows on grass alone, $2,257.85 worth of milk. Their milk check in April was $600.17. There is one way that one firm is making money. Down in Southeast Missouri, farmers have raised and sold about 2 million dollars worth of sun flowers this year. The seeds have become valuable for poultry food and for oil. If wheat dont pay or if corn don't pay, something else will, but it never pays to destroy your credit by advertising yourself as a failure.

Former United States Senator Wilfley says, "The new constitution has been made just at the time when Missouri needs it most and should be adopted as it stands by the people of the state." He believes the new document will further the progress of the state and is particularly intrested in the change in the judiciary system which is designed to do away with a lot of the delays in court trials. The new document has aimed at a simpler and quicker procedure which should be more satisfactory to everyone connected with court life unless it be guilty defendants.

'Commandments' for Law Enforcement

Washington, Oct. 22—The following eight "commandments" by Federal Prohibition Commissioner Haynes were made public here today to guide those who would aid individually in enforcement:

Give your aid and cooperation to all enforcement officers.

Publicly and privately register your sentiment in favor of vigorous enforcement of the law.

Serve on juries, when called.

Express your opinion to the editor of your paper.

Encourage public officials.

Acquaint yourself with the facts in order to refute the misrepresentations of propagandists.

Affilate with those societies and organizations that have for their purpose the incalcuating of the spirit of respect for law in both young and old.

Keep your daily conduct in strict obedience to the law thus creating an example to others on the proper attitude of the law.

The federal prohibition and narcotic officers also published "collective" commandments on cooperation with enforcement officials, attendance at court, appreciation, protest and the education of public sentiment.

Have you ever noticed when a woman gets so angry she could bite a nail in two she bites her nails and stamps her foot?

When a girl tumbles to the fact that she is not good looking she buys a pair of horn-rimmed glasses and tries to look intellectual.

We are funny. The minute our car gets something wrong with it we rusn it to the best repair shop in town. But let our body get something wrong with it, we try self-medication with drug store remedies instead of rushing to the best doctor in town.

If we are to believe all the golf enthusiasts tells us about the health giving qualities of the game we would expect to see the cemeteries depopulated.

Revenge usually runs into money which the lawyers generally get.

Fashion note says "fur garters" are the latest thing in the way of feminine foibles. We suppose they will have to be seen to be appreciated.

A First National Picture.

Rich Man, Poor Man, Beggar Man, Thief —and a girl and her violin!

What would be the bond between them? Driven like ships bound for the Port of Prince and Pauper. Was it just the magic of her melody that came like a shaft of light to these people in the shadows?—or was it something else?

Music? Magic? Love?—perhaps a power greater still! Whatever it is, it echoes through this picture, a song of the soul that will linger in your memory for days to come.

The Essence of Real Brotherhood

Speaking editorially, under the caption, "A Hopeful Incident," the Beacon of Wichita, Kansas, in its issue of September 18, says:

"The banquet of the Industrial Relations Organization of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), reported in yesterday's Beacon, is a fine incident of the growing friendship in industrial relations.

"The most encouraging thing that is happening today in the industrial life of this country is in the new programs of co-operation that are being established between themselves and their employes by great employers. The best industrial plants in the country today are finding their own points of contact with their own men.

"In these new points of contact they are finding the base of that essence of real brotherhood that should exist between the man who labors and the man who employs. This new tendency is the most hopeful thing in the industrial life of America today."

The banquet referred to concluded the Fifth Annual Industrial Conference of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) inaugurated under the guidance of the Board of Directors.

The Industrial Relations Department of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is the crystallization of the plans of the Management for giving its employes a voice in the affairs of the Company, that they might sense the sheer joy that comes with independence, and thereby become better citizens, better husbands, better fathers, and better workmen.

The employe representatives of the Joint General Committee are elected by ballot of the employes. This Committee makes recommendations to the Management on matters pertaining to working and living conditions, hours, wages, safety, housing, athletics and other subjects of immediate interest to the employe.

Out of the 1400 cases which have been submitted to the Management by the Joint General Committees, 93.3% have been approved and made effective.

This exemplifies the spirit of fairness inherent throughout the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) organization.

It is an eloquent manifestation of the harmony prevailing throughout this shirt-sleeved organization of 27,000 men and women.

Through harmony is gained the whole-hearted, earnest effort which results in high-speed efficiency. This efficiency has made the Company a leader in the petroleum industry and enables it to render such a superior service to the thirty million people of the Middle West.

National Apple Day Is Oct. 31 to Nov. 7

Celebration Of Apple Day and Apple Week Will Be Celebrated All Over the Country

Have you arranged to eat at least an apple a day during National Apple Week, October 31 to November 7 inclusive? This is the question of the day—and don't for get to celebrate National Apple Day on October 31.

These are the topics, according to T. J. Talbert, professor of horticulture at the Missouri College of Agriculture, that folks are discussing now instead of saying, "It's a fine day. Is it cool enough for you?"

The celebration of Apple Day and Apple Week will be general all over the state. Grocery stores, hotels and restaurants will display huge piles of Missouri's choicest fruit. Attractive, original and unique exhibits will be staged. Many eating places will supply each customer with an apple with his meal whether he orders it or not. They are all boosters for Missouri's "big red apples."

These and many other methods may be employed successfully in making National Apple Day, October 31, and National Apple Week, October 31 to November 7, days of real benefit to the people of Missouri.

Late Telegraph News

St. Louis, Oct. 22—Someone with a perverted sense of humor, local police say, has played a mean trick on Adam Finklein of Belleville, Ill.

Finklein left Belleville recently, coming here to work. While busy at his job the other day, a would-be-joker for whom the police of St. Louis are searching today, sneaked off with Finklein's coat.

Finklein believed himself the victim of a petty sneak thief and let it go at that, as the coat was not very valuable.

The persons who took the coat, laid it across a railing in the middle span of the free bridge across the Mississippi river. On the lapel he pinned a note purporting to be a "goodbye message" of Finklein and giving the address of Finklein's wife in Belleville.

The coat was taken to the East St. Louis police station and Finklein's family notified of the supposed suicide, while police of both St. Louis and East St. Louis searched the river for a body.

Finklein's wife was almost overcome with grief.

When the search for Finklein's body proved fruitless, Walter Finklein, city fireman in Belleville, went to St. Louis to look up the effects of his brother.

He found him alive, and hard at work in a St. Louis garage.

Fort Worth, Tex., Oct. 22—It was a costly victory that marked the opening of the North High grid season, as seven players today are in a hospital or under physicians care in their homes so seriously disabled that it is doubtful whether they will return to their positions again this season.

Houston, Tex., Oct. 22—Have your oyster stews of late appeared to have suffered a relapse from their usual weakened condition? Taking it for granted that such is the case, the state game department reports heavy weather off the cost and consequent delay in arrival of oyster boats, has resulted in a virtual oyster famine throughout the Southwest.

Stamford, Tex., Oct. 22—A full moon, a cemetery, a white-horse and a rabbit-foot, a combination of lady luck's omens that should prove infallible for those partaking of the venerable game of draw-poker, but even coupled thusly, they failed miserably.

Four men staging a poker tournament in a cemetery here under the above described conditions, all lost. The winner was an unindentified youth who entered the game without solicitation and at the point of a x x of a gun held the contestants at bay while he swept up the proceeds, something over $150.

Commerce, Tex., Oct. 22—After L. Freidberg, merchant, had swallowed his false teeth, he was rushed to Dallas where an operation removed the artificial molars from a point "about half way to his stomach" where they had lodged.

Houston, Tex., Oct. 22—The great open spaces looked particularly inviting to Joe Meadows, devotee of the rod and rail and dusty roads, when hauled into the sheriff's office on the second floor of the courthouse here and charged with vagrancy. At the first opportunity, Meadows leaped headlong through an open window, picked himself up 30 feet below and made a dash for liberty.

He was overtaken several blocks distance on the roof of a four story building.

Kansas City, Oct. 22—A marriage license with "limitations" was requested of the city license clerk here by Mrs. Susan H. Hutchings, 40 years old.

Mrs. Hutchings asked to be issued a license including a provision that her prospective husband could not obtain possession of any of her property. She was told such provisions could not be inserted in the perscribed form.

The applicant demurred a while about obtaining the license, but finally decided to accept one of the usual forms.

Norman, Okla., Oct. 22—Enrollment in the University of Oklahoma mathematics department is so much greater this year than was expected that three graduate students have been named to assist in the departmnt, according to the announcement of Dr. S. W. Reeves, head of the department. The assistants are Chester J. Duncan and William F. Shultz.

Norman, Okla., Oct. 22—Twenty-five army horses in good condition and the pick of last years stock have been added to the mounts of the Oklahoma University R. O. T. C. corral.

The horses were pastured at Fort Reno during the summer. They aiso will be used in polo, it was said.

Kansas City, Kan., Oct. 22—Mayor Gordon again has been asked to play the role of Dan Cupid.

This time the cow puncher, rider of the western plains, has sought the assistance of the city's chief executive to "steer' him down the trail of matrimony.

In a letter from Charles Chenowith, supreme protective cowboy of the Fraternal Order of Cow Punchers, Mayor Gordon was asked to supply names of Kansas Cityans with matrimonial inclinations and who are desirous of outdoor life.

Flappers are barred by the cow puncher, the letter states, and the fact is made plain that any mate for the ranger will not have to saddle his pony.

Applicants are requested by the mayor to phone or write him at the mayor's office.

Topeka, Kan., Oct. 22—Graduates of the Kansas City College of Medicine and Surgery are practicing in Kansas despite the fact that their school is not recognized by the Kansas State board of medical examiners, according to an announcement of the board.

Graduates of the Kansas City school practice in this state under a reciprocity agreement between Kansas and Missouri, it was explained. While the Kansas board does not permit graduates of the school to take license examination, if they have passed in another state, they are admitted to practice here through the agreement with the Missouri board.

The Kansas City College of Medicine and Surgery was named in the recent expose of the "diploma mill" in which it was charged uneducated persons obtained medical degrees and permits to practice medicine for a sum based on their financial status.

Two Kansas City doctors and several St. Louis professors and physicians were arrested in connection with the "mill."

Strong City, Kan., Oct. 22—Present indications point to trouble here tomorrow night when the proposed meeting of the Ku Klux Klan in the city auditorium is scheduled to take place. Mayor Weibrecht contends the klan has no right to meet in the auditorium without the consent of city officials. He already has refused the organization a permit.

C. B. Griffith, attorney general of Kansas, has been asked by the mayor for advice in handling the situation, he said. Officers of the klan say they will meet in spite of the city executive's attempts to prepent their assembling.

The attorney general replied the city marshal could be requested to prevent the meeting and that he could swear in a sufficient number of deputies to enforce the ruling, if he saw fit. Griffith said the marshal has authority similar to that of a sheriff and that a sheriff could call upon the governor for national guard aid if he was unable to handle the situation.

St. Louis, Oct. 22—When Eddie Smith began straggling in late at night with the explanation to friend wife, that he was playing pool with friends, friend wife became suspicious

At last she determined to find out for herself just where "hubby" spent his evenings.

She dressed in some of his clothes, pulled an old cap over her head and sailed forth of Eddie's trail.

Then someone discovered her long tresses under the cap, and others gathered about her, and she fled up an alley pursued by a crowd of boys and men. A heartless policeman ended the chase by escorting her to the police station.

This, in substance, was the story told between sobs by Mrs. Frieda Smith, 20 years old, when quizzed by authorities at police headquarters.

"I had another husband who proved unfaithful and preferred the society of other women," she said. "I got a divorce and fell in love with Eddie. Recently he has been staying out late at night and I became worried. He said he played pool every night, but I decided to find out for myself.

Hubby was home when Mrs. Smith was permitted to leave the police station.

Late Telegraph News

Norman, Okla., Oct. 22—National Education week, set aside by President Coolidge for November 18 to 24, will be observed in Cleveland county and at the University of Oklahoma here, according to plans drawn up by the county superintendent, Miss Northcutt.

Prior to the national educational movement, Cleveland county school officials and the community institute staff of the University of Oklahoma will go to Moore, beginning November 14, hold a two day institute, according to Miss Northcutt.

At this meeting nurses supplied by the institute will examine children, authorities on farming and education will hold meetings which will be attended by the townspeople. A special feature of the session will be a meeting devoted to problems confronting girls and women, Miss Northcutt announced.

Following the Moore meeting, according to the county superintendent, programs in harmony with the National Education week movement will be given in all county schools. The benefit of the weeks work, however, is not confined to school children, it was said. Instructions will be given those who have long been out of school, but are faced with problems.

All county school superintendents have received a copy of the proclamation signed by the president September 26 asking observance of the education week.

Prepare For Winter

Autumn Poultry Hints by T. W. Noland, director of the Missouri State Poultry Experiment Station.

This is the time of the year when every poultry raiser should repair his poultry house. Everyone should prepare for the cool, damp days of autumn. The old houses should be gone over; new glass put in where panes are broken, new muslin put on the frames, and the doors examined and repaired. And above everything, the houses should be given a thorough cleaning. New houses should be built if more room is needed for nothing will more quickly injure the health of birds or lower winter egg production than to over-crowd the flock. If one is planning to build, the work should not be put off but started at once.

Are the pullets ready to lay? This is the question of the season. Everyone should make an effort to develop the pullets before cold weather. Be more liberal with feed. Gradually get them on full laying ration as they reach maturity. Remember that winter eggs are profitable eggs!

Watch the flock for disease. Roup and chicken pox will soon be troubling hundreds of poultry raisers. They can be avoided to a great extent by due precaution. Prevention is better than cure. The houses and range should be thoroughly cleaned and the fowls should be given a good tonic. The following treatment is recommended for every 125 birds weighing two pounds or more:

1 pint common sulphur. Mix in mash, then moisten and feed. Use only the amount of mash that will be cleaned up in about fifteen minutes. On the following day, give 1 pint of Epsom salts; dissolve in water and mix with the same amount of mash as above. Repeat this treatment weekly for four weeks.

But every one cannot be successful in preventing disease. If poultry raisers are having trouble along this line, they should write the Department of Pathology and Hygiene. Dr. Eriksen, who is in charge of this department can help you solve your disease problems, and his services are free.

Bulletins on housing and feeding may be procured from the Missouri State Poultry Experiment Station, Mountain Grove, Missouri. They are free to residents of Missouri.

WE HAVE INSTALLED IN OUR MODEL PLANT

The Continuous Flow System

To Keep Pure Cleansing Fluid in Our Washers All the Time. With it, your clothes are cleaned in the same effective manner as they would be if it were possible to have a stream of brand new cleansing fluid flowing into the bottom of the cleaning machine and a stream of dirty fluid flowing from the top of it.

You can easily imagine the wonderful improvement that this system makes in the quality of our work.

Our cleansing fluid is kept in prime condition all the time, so that unpleasant odors are eliminated. The dirt is actually REMOVED from each individual garment, not just evenly distributed among many garments.

Throughout our entire cleaning process, there is nothing which can cause injury to even the finest fabrics. Your clothing is handled as carefully as you would handle it yourself.

A visit to our plant will interest you and we will be glad to show you our plan in operation any day from 12 to 3 p. m., excepting Saturday, which will be in operation from 10 to 12 a. m.

Yours very truly,

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous.

DEMOLAYS SECURE ROOMS FOR CLUB

UPSTAIRS OVER DR. F. M. RYAN OFFICE IS RENTED.

IS BEING REDECORATED

Roms Will Be for Use of DeMolays and Masons—Club Now Has 50 Members.

A suite of rooms has been rented by the DeMolay Club for the use of Masons and DeMolays as club rooms. The rooms secured just recently constitute the entire upstairs above the office of Dr. F. M. Ryan on Buchanan street. The rooms will be occupied as soon as they are redecorated and the refinishing is completed.

The DeMolay Club now has about fifty members of DeMolays and Masons. The club was organized last spring under the auspices of the Order of the DeMolay chapter here. The club has been inactive for the past few weeks due to the fact that suitable club rooms could not be found. The suite of three rooms in the Doctor Ryan building are being remodeled in good taste.

A committee from the club has been appointed to purchase furniture for the rooms. The committee is composed of Raymond Barry, chairman; Marion Gile, William McDougal, George Smith, and Gordon Roach.

The decoration scheme of the rooms is planned to be white and green with oak woodwork. The floor is being sanded and left in the natural finish while the walls are being paneled. Two large fire places are being installed and redecorated to conform to the other decorations.

The lounge room will contain oak writing desk, overstuffed divans and overstuffed mission furniture with an abundance of carpets and pillows. Oil paintings, water colorings and etchings have been secured for permanent hanging. A small raised stage will in all probability be installed at one end of the rooms as the club is planning to put on some musicales and recitals during the winter months. Reading lamps are to be provided as a library will be furnished for the rooms.

A DeMolay boy, (out-of-town) who is attending the State Teachers College, will have supervision of the rooms. Sleeping quarters will be given to the care-taker. The club rooms are to be conducted under a set of rules that will be drawn up by a committee of the club. The rooms will be closed at a reasonable hour each evening and during church hours. The citizenship class will be conducted in the DeMolay club room each month for members of the local chapter of the DeMolay.

I. C. C. Orders Hearing on Rail Freight Rates

Eight States Join Kansas Public Service Commission for Hearing in Kansas City November 14.

Washington, Oct. 22—The Interstate Commerce Commission today ordered a hearing at Kansas City, Mo. November 14 on the case of the Public Utilities Commission of Kansas against various western railroads regarding charges in freight rates on grain production.

Kansas City, Oct. 22—Nearly all of the eight states which joined the Kansas State Public Service Commission in its application for lowering of freight rates on grain were represented at the meeting here today held for the purpose of studying the findings of the commission handed down October 11, in which the application was refused.

The states co-operating with Kansas in the rate reduction movement are Missouri, Iowa, Minnesota, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Nebraska, North and South Dakota.

November 14, the date set by the Interstate Commerce Commission today for the rate hearing, gives the eight states less time in which to prepare the case than in the previous hearing.

Clyde M. Reed, chairman of the Kansas Utilities Commission, who is leading the fight for lower rates, declared today's order makes the rate hearing of nation-wide importance instead of sectional, because a universal lowering of rates, suggested in the order, would be of great importance to middle western farmers, due to the long hauling required for their products.

Mr. and Mrs. Miles Fast and wife of Burlington Junction were in Maryville Saturday. They had been to St. Joseph Friday and were on the way home.

CHAOTIC GERMANY TOTTERING TODAY

FOUNDATION OF ONCE POWERFUL EMPIRE IS CRACKING

GENERAL STRIKE FEARED

Nearly All Miners In Central Germany Are Idle—200,000 Are On Strike

Berlin, Oct. 22—The foundation of the German Reich was cracking today under the strain of secessionists, hostility between the states, public distrust and labor troubles.

Up to early this afternoon, few serious disturbances had been reported except from the occupied districts. For the most part, people are apathetic and indifferent.

The separatist movement has swept through a part of the Rhineland but has met with opposition in some quarters. First reports that Mayence, Wiesbaden and other large Rhenish states were supporting the movement were officially denied, but Berlin admitted that the Republic has been accepted by Muenchen, Gladbach and Aachen.

There is threat of a general strike. Already, nearly all the miners in central Germany are idle, with about 200,000 miners on strike. The working masses are warning Berlin not to give in, threatening to strike if Berlin does so. The situation between Berlin and Munich is made more acute by the action of Bavaria in taking over the 7th Division of the Reichswerh.

Bavaria did not demand formal oath of allegiance from the troops, but compelled them to subscribe to a pledge. After reading the proclamation to the soldiers, they are given the following pledge to sign:

"Upon the basis of the Bavarian proclamation, I hereby declare I have been placed in the service of the Baverian state government as trustee for the German people pending re-establishment of accord between Bavaria and the Heich. I hereby renew my pledge of obediance to my superiors."

The executive committee of the state-wide workers' council named a body to act officially for them in the settlement.

For two years, Mrs. Wallace Reid waged her own battle against this insidious monster whose tentacles reach out into every quarter of our nation, sucking the life-blood of talent and youth. Mrs. Reid lost her fight. Because she lost, she now submerges herself and her grief in the production of a photodrama so powerful, so compelling, that its mighty influence for good in the world is inestimable.
